Questions
1. What physical features in addition to skin color are used in racial identifications? What other non-physical features?

2. How is color described throughout the categories? Do any themes run through the descriptions?

3. Are any biases apparent in any of the descriptions?

4. Which identifications stand out most to you?

5. Brazilians identified themselves racially in 1976 differently from the way people in the United States identify themselves. Why do you think this is the case?